IQ Workshop – Review & Questions

Wednesday, October 17, 2018

This workshop is for those new to using IQ and those that have questions. Besides the content covered below, time will be set aside just to answer questions. Content in the other workshop(s) will not be specifically covered.

IQ is a powerful computer guided system that can be used on a number of brands and models of longarm quilting machines. Because of its many features and settings, there may be confusion about terms and there are often questions.

This workshop will cover:

- Review of the basics and functions, pantos, blocks, realign, restart, speed and detail, how to check the speed and make adjustments for perfect stitching, helps and custom settings.
- When to use adjust
- Equipment maintenance
- Answer your IQ questions on content not covered in the second workshop.

Bring your IQ tablet and charging cord.

IQ Workshop – Customizing 101

Thursday, October 18, 2018

IQ is a powerful program with many capabilities. It is designed to produce precision quilting with sharp points and smooth curves of any pattern, simple to complex, and has many features to truly customize the quilting. Although this workshop will cover many of the very useful customization techniques, it is not possible cover all of IQ's customization features in a one day workshop.

This workshop will cover:

- Panto options with E2E and B2B (border to border patterns), design alterations using shift, offset and other features for perfect results.
- No-sew zone within panto and no-sew zone in a block placing a background fill.
- Method for multiple placements of the same pattern (block, sashing, etc), tweaking to fit the space
- Fun with P2P (point to point) pattern placement
- Border design with path pattern. This method is far superior to using panto and allows customization of the pattern to fit in the space.

Bring your IQ tablet and charging cord.
